

1962 PEOPLE'S LEAGUE DELIVERY

Because of the 'Work to Rule' postal dispute of January 1962 when the parcel post was suspended, the PEOPLE'S LEAGUE FOR THE DEFENCE OF FREEDOM applied to the Postmaster-General for permission to run an Urgent Mail Delivery Service. The Service started on January 11th at a receiving depot in Baker Street, London, where handstruck stamps were applied until the issue of adhesive stamps on January 17th.
